

Translated Patient Information Resources List

Below is a list of freely accessible online materials on range of health related topics that have been translated into a variety of languages

1. General health and wellbeing translated materials

- The World Health Organization (WHO) provides information on health in Chinese, French, Spanish, Russian and Arabic: who.int/health-topics
- Northumberland, Tyne and Wear NHS Foundation Trust resource library has a collection of health information available in different languages: cntw.nhs.uk/resource-library
- The Royal College of Psychiatrists offers translated versions of its patient-friendly mental health information: rcpsych.ac.uk/mental-health/translations
- Macmillan Cancer Support has translated information on the most common types of cancer: macmillan.org.uk/cancer-information-and-support/get-help/all-the-ways-we-can-help/cancer-information-in-your-language. It also offers an interpreter service on its support line.
- UNICEF's Baby Friendly Initiative offers translated information sheets for new parents: unicef.org.uk/babyfriendly/baby-friendly-resources/foreign-language-resources

2. Accessing services

- NHS Inform has a translated factsheet on accessing healthcare for asylum seekers and refugees in Scotland: nhsinform.scot/publications/healthcare-for-asylum-seekers-and-refugees-in-scotland-factsheet
- Translated advice on Help with NHS Costs: nhsbsa.nhs.uk/advice-other-languages
- Doctors of the World has a series of translated resources answering common questions including how to register with a GP: doctorsoftheworld.org.uk/translated-health-information. There are also resources on COVID-19 vaccines and keeping young people healthy.

3. Translated COVID-19 materials

- Translated materials on Test and Trace from Public Health England:
coronavirusresources.phe.gov.uk/Test-and-Trace/resources/Translations-Posters
- My Hero is You, Storybook for Children on COVID-19 available to download and as an audiobook in more than 100 languages:
interagencystandingcommittee.org/iasc-reference-group-mental-health-and-psychosocial-support-emergency-settings/my-hero-you-storybook-children-covid-19
- South Asian Health Foundation has a range of translated resources and links about coronavirus: sahf.org.uk/covid19
- COVID-19 Infographics provides translated infographics, myth busters and links to dedicated support services: covid19graphics.info

LIBRARY & KNOWLEDGE SERVICE

Library & Knowledge Service

Whiston Hospital, Prescot, Merseyside, L35 5DR

email: library@sthk.nhs.uk

website: <http://www.knowledge-nw.nhs.uk>